EXPLANATORY NOTES

(a) General information

The New South Wales Inmate Census was conducted as part of the National Australian Prison Census for the 30th June 2000. The proposal for a National Prison Census first emerged at a Correctional Administrators meeting in Melbourne in September 1980 as an offshoot from a review of correctional statistics. Preliminary technical discussions were held in December 1980 and a formal proposal went to the Ministers Conference held in New Zealand in April/May 1981. The Ministers discussed the proposed census at some length and finally agreed to conduct the first Australian National Prison Census on 30th June 1982 and that an inmate census should continue to be conducted annually.

(b) Scope of data collection

This publication contains summary statistics of inmates held in full-time custody in gazetted correctional centres in New South Wales at midnight on the 30th June 2000 and of inmates with a "live" order for periodic detention for the week ending Sunday 25th June 2000. Full-time inmates on the Work Release II programme (where the inmate lives at home and works at a correctional centre) have been included. Inmates temporarily absent from a correctional centre under s26 of the Crimes (Administration of Sentences) Act, 1999 have been excluded with the exception of those inmates housed at the Parramatta Transitional Centre. These inmates are shown separately (see Section 4) and are not included in any totals. Inmates housed in police/court complexes (places of detention not gazetted as correctional centres) under the supervision of Departmental staff have been excluded from this data collection.

(c) Concept of an episode of imprisonment

Statistical information describing inmate legal status, type of sentence, court type, sentence terms, most serious offence etc. all relate to the episode of imprisonment current at the 30th June 2000. For the purposes of this publication, an episode of imprisonment is taken as a continuous period of imprisonment within an adult correctional centre in NSW.

In distinguishing between the current and any previous episode of imprisonment the following rules were applied:

- i. for inmates held in custody for breach of a parole or licence order relating to a previous period(s) of imprisonment, the previous period(s) of imprisonment is/are excluded from the current episode (this rule changed in 1998, refer to explanatory note (k));
- ii. any period of imprisonment prior to a release to a court where the inmate was subsequently freed without having been returned to a correctional centre within 1 day, was excluded from the current episode;
- iii. any period of imprisonment prior to a release to police custody where the inmate was subsequently freed without having been returned to a correctional centre within 5 days, was excluded from the current episode;
- iv. any period of imprisonment prior to release on bail, on a bond or to immigration authorities was excluded from the current episode;
- v. any period of imprisonment prior to transfer to an institution other than a NSW correctional centre (e.g. a psychiatric hospital, juvenile or interstate institution) was excluded from the current episode;

- vi. for inmates who had escaped from a correctional centre and had been subsequently returned to custody, the episode of imprisonment current at the time of the escape was included in the current episode.

(d) Known prior imprisonment as an adult

For the purposes of this publication known prior imprisonment includes any episode of imprisonment within a gazetted NSW adult correctional centre, including periodic detention centres. Prior to 1999, this category was based simply on whether a person had any known episode of prior imprisonment as an adult in a gazetted correctional centre in NSW. A hierarchy of sub-categories of known prior imprisonment based on custodial program and legal status was introduced in 1999. Where there is more than one period of prior imprisonment of a particular sub-category, the highest sub-category is used. The sub-categories, from lowest to highest, are:

- i. an episode of periodic detention;
- ii. an episode on remand in a full-time correctional centre;
- iii. an episode in full-time custody for fine default;
- iv. an episode in full-time custody under sentence.

(e) English speaking status of country of birth

Country of birth classification is based on the Standard Australian Classification of Countries (SACC) (Australian Bureau of Statistics Catalogue No: 1269.0, ABS 1998). English speaking status of the country of birth is based on the "Main English speaking countries" as identified in ABS publication "Australian Standard Classification of Countries for Social Statistics" (ASCCSS) (ABS Catalogue No. 1269.0). The main English speaking countries comprise: Australia, Canada, New Zealand, Republic of Ireland, South Africa, United Kingdom (Channel Islands, England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland) and the United States of America.

(f) Legal status

For the purpose of this publication, inmates have been classified to the following eight legal status categories:

- i. under sentence - no appeal;
- ii. convicted but awaiting sentence;
- iii. awaiting result of appeal against conviction or sentence;
- iv. detained as a forensic patient;
- v. unconvicted (awaiting court hearing/trial);
- vi. awaiting deportation;
- vii. awaiting extradition to another jurisdiction; or
- viii. civil inmate (held in custody for an offence other than a criminal offence).

(g) Type of sentence

This item relates to the aggregate sentence imposed (see explanatory note (l)). The category "Life sentence" includes (a) persons with an "existing Life sentence" (i.e. those sentenced to Life imprisonment under the legislation preceding the Life Sentences Amendment Act, 1989 and who have yet to have the sentence redetermined by the Supreme Court), (b) persons sentenced to "Natural Life" under the Crimes Act, 1900 as amended by the Life Sentences Amendment Act, 1989 and (c) persons who have had an "existing Life sentence" redetermined to a sentence composed of a non-parole period of a term of years and a balance of sentence (i.e. parole period) of "Life".

The category "Forensic patient" includes persons found not guilty by reason of mental illness, persons found unfit to be tried and persons certified to be mentally ill (in terms of the Mental Health Act 1990) whilst being held in custody on remand or under sentence.

Inmates held in full-time custody (convicted or unconvicted) who also have a current order for periodic detention are counted as full-time custody inmates.

Significant legislative amendments affecting the Department came into force on 3 April 2000, repealing a number of Acts of Parliament which the Department administered, namely:

- Correctional Centres Act 1952
- Sentencing Act 1989
- Periodic Detention of Prisoners Act 1981
- Home Detention Act 1996
- Community Service Orders Act 1979.

These Acts were replaced by the following Acts:

- Crimes (Sentencing Procedure) Act 1999
- Crimes (Administration of Sentences) Act 1999.

The consolidation of the sentencing legislation into two Acts was achieved with only minor changes of substance to existing law. With regard to this publication, one effect of the legislative amendments was the removal of the terms "minimum", "additional" and "fixed" used in describing sentence types. Under the new legislation a court, in setting a term of imprisonment, is required to set a "Sentence" period and a "Non-Parole" period. Alternatively, after setting a sentence period a court may decline to set a "Non-Parole" period. In this publication, these sentences are referred to as "Sentence/Non-Parole" and "Sentence/Parole declined" sentence types respectively.

Amendments to the Periodic Detention of Prisoners Act 1981 (Periodic Detention of Prisoners Amendment Act 1998 (No. 43)) enabled courts to set "minimum" and "additional" terms when imposing a sentence to be served by way of periodic detention. These changes were incorporated in the new legislation (Crimes (Sentencing Procedure) Act 1999) with respective changes to the sentence type terminology, as explained above. In this publication, periodic detention sentences are described as either "Periodic (Sentence/Non-Parole)" or "Periodic (Sentence/Parole declined)".

A new fine enforcement system for NSW was introduced from 27 January 1998 under the Fines Act 1996 and is based on a hierarchy of civil and non-custodial sanctions with imprisonment as a sanction of last resort. Inmates with a sentence type of "Fine default" are held only for reason of fine default (i.e. there are no outstanding charges or current sentences).

(h) Level and State of court

This item represents the level and State of court at which the current sentence for the most serious offence was imposed. For unsentenced inmates, the court at which the most recent order for detention for the most serious offence (see explanatory note below) is used. Appeal courts were recorded only where such courts have altered the length of sentence relating to the most serious offence. Where the most serious offence recorded is Breach of Parole/Licence the court of conviction is shown as Parole Board. Inmates detained for reason of deportation only are shown under "Immigration Authority".

The NSW Drug Court program commenced on February 8, 1999 as a non-custodial program for illicit drug dependant offenders charged with non-violent offences. Inmates shown with a court of "Drug Court" are convicted offenders either (a) held in custody as unsentenced inmates by the Drug Court pending determination of or placement on their program, (b) in custody serving a "sanction" for a breach of the Drug Court order or (c) had had their program terminated and were subsequently ordered by the Drug Court to serve the original suspended sentence by imprisonment in full-time custody.

(i) Classification of offences

In this publication offences have been classified according to the Second Revision of the New South Wales Classification of Offences and of Care and Protection Orders for Children. This classification was developed by the NSW Office of the Australian Bureau of Statistics in collaboration with State authorities and has been used in NSW Correctional Centres and courts statistics since 1973.

As a general rule, a legal charge of attempting, conspiring, or inciting to commit a crime, or aiding in the commission of, or participating as an accessory before the fact to a crime is classified to the offence category to which the crime so attempted, etc. is assigned. However, cases of accessory after the fact to a crime are assigned to the category "Accessory after the fact". While the classification has, of necessity, been abbreviated in the tables that follow, detail of the specific offence groups included within each offence category are given in the Appendix.

(j) Most serious offence

Although an inmate may be held in a correctional centre for a number of different offences, only the most serious offence in the current imprisonment episode has been recorded in these statistics. The most serious offence is the offence for which the longest sentence was imposed for a single count regardless of the possible result of any appeals. Where no sentence had been imposed at 30 June 2000, or two different offences had equal sentences, the offence with the lowest (NSW) offence code number was chosen. Prior to 1998 "Breach of parole/licence" was only taken as the most serious offence when there were no other current convictions for another offence, and was included in the category "Offences against order". Under new counting rules introduced in 1998 (see explanatory note (k)) the offence of "Breach of parole/licence" is treated the same as any other offence.

The counting rule for federal offences changed in 2000. Due to a lack available information, in previous years all unsentenced inmates were excluded from the count of federal offences (both the counts for any federal offence and a federal most serious offence) regardless of the offence. In 2000, unsentenced inmates whose most serious offence is a federal offence have been included in this count.

(k) Breach of parole/licence order - new counting rule

A new counting rule for inmates held in custody for offences relating to a breach of parole or licence order was introduced in 1998. In previous years all inmates discharged to parole/licence that had been returned to custody prior to expiration of the parole/licence term were classified as "breach of parole/licence" inmates. Since 1998, only those inmates who had a conviction for Breach of Parole or Licence at the time of the census are classified as "breach of parole/licence" inmates. As in previous years breaches relating to juvenile orders or orders from other jurisdictions (with the exception of the ACT) are excluded from this count.

A new rule for determining "current episode" for inmates held in custody for offences relating to a breach of parole or licence order was also introduced in 1998. In previous publications the current imprisonment episode for these inmates included the previous period(s) of imprisonment relating to the breached order(s). In this publication, these prior episodes are excluded from the current episode of imprisonment. This new rule makes it possible for the most serious offence to be "Breach of Parole" or "Breach of Licence". A new offence category has been created to identify these offenders.

(l) Aggregate sentence

This item represents the longest period that a person may be detained under sentence in the current episode and includes any "balance of sentence" terms. Pending charges that are likely to extend the aggregate sentence are ignored. In the case of an inmate serving the balance of a sentence after revocation of parole or licence, only the balance of the sentence is included, as distinct from publications previous to 1998 where the whole of the original sentence was included (refer to explanatory note (k) above).

The category "Forensic patient" includes all persons with a legal status or sentence type of "Forensic patient". The aggregate sentence length for "Life" and certain "Forensic patient" sentence types is indeterminate as the sentencing court does not impose a sentence expiry date for these sentences (refer to explanatory note (g) above).

(m) Inmate security classification

Inmates in full-time custody are classified in accordance with the Crimes (Administration of Sentences) (Correctional Centres Routine) Regulation 1995 (Clauses 10, 11 and 15), incorporating the classification system for female inmates introduced on 4 July 1997. Inmate classification sub-categories for unsentenced inmates who have been classified were introduced into this publication in 1999. In previous publications all unsentenced inmates were counted as "Remand/Trial" inmates regardless of whether they had been otherwise classified by the Department. In this publication the inmate classification current at the 30 June 2000 is shown. It should be noted that some convicted inmates may have an "unconvicted" inmate classification if they were facing further and more serious charges or they had not been re-classified at the time of the Census.

An administratively based classification system for periodic detainees was introduced into this publication in 1999. Stage 1 classification refers to detainees who are required to attend a periodic detention centre during each detention period. Stage 2 detainees are not required to attend a periodic detention centre during each detention period, instead these detainees stay overnight in their own home and report to a work site or detention centre each day as required.

On summary sheets, Maximum security includes all unclassified inmates and both convicted and unconvicted inmates classified as A1, A2, E1. Medium security includes both convicted and unconvicted inmates classified as B, E2 and Category 4 and Minimum security includes both convicted and unconvicted inmates classified as C1, C2, C3 and Category 1, 2 and 3.

1. Some convicted inmates may have an "unconvicted" inmate classification if they were facing further and more serious charges or had not been re-classified at the time of the census. Therefore the total number of inmates with "convicted" inmate classifications may not be equal to the total number of convicted inmates.

4. Some convicted inmates may have an "unconvicted" inmate classification if they were facing further and more serious charges or had not been re-classified at the time of the census. Therefore the total number of inmates with "convicted" inmate classifications may not be equal to the total number of convicted inmates.
