Coach Training

v0.1

Acknowledgment of Country

We acknowledge the Traditional Owners of this Country.

We pay our respects to Elders past, present and emerging and extend that respect to all Aboriginal people in the room today

Learning Objectives

- Understand the purpose and benefits of coaching
- Understand core coaching skills
- Demonstrate the role of a QAF coach

Overview

- The 'why and what' of coaching
- Core coaching skills
- Coaching in the QAF
- Common challenges
- Next steps

Activity

- Pair up and discuss:
- One thing you already know about coaching
- One thing you want to know by the end of the day

'Why and What' of Coaching

One-off training events alone are not enough to change practice. On-the-job feedback and support is essential for changing practice and mastering new skills

(Fixsen 2005)

The Cone of Learning

"I see and I forget.
I hear and I remember.
I do and I understand."
Confucius

THE CONE OF LEARNING

After 2 weeks, we tend to remember...

PASSIVE	10% of what we READ	Reading
	20% of what we HEAR	Hearing Words
	30% of what we SEE	Seeing
	50% of what we SEE & HEAR	Watching a Movie Looking at an Exhibit Watching a Demonstration Seeing it Done on Location
ACTIVE	70% of what we SAY	Participating in a Discussion Giving a Talk
	90% of what we DO	Doing a Dramatic Presentation Simulating the Real Experience Doing the Real Thing

Common Challenges

 Caseworkers talking with carers during carer Questionnaire

 Caseworkers not comfortable speaking with children or carers about their results

Next Steps

- Become familiar with QAF User Guide coaching manual
- Make changes to coaching process as needed
- Book in coaching sessions
- Bring questions to LIT meetings

Case 1

Abby (Social Worker) is about to go on a home visit. She will speak to a carer about the QAF for the first time.

She tells you that she's not confident talking about the QAF.

As a group, let's brainstorm what the agenda for your individual coaching session.

Now let's pair up and practice introducing each agenda item to Abby and referring to relevant resources

Case 2

- Beth (Social Worker) has come back to the office after a carer and a young person has completed the following surveys:
- SDQ
- Safety and Permanency
- MEIM
- ACCQ

Case 3

 Colin (caseworker) is about to go on a home visit to speak to the carer about their SDQ results for the first time and is feeling unsure about how to approach the conversation.

 How can you support Colin with having a conversation with the carer about their SDQ results?
