NSW Settlement Partnership

Supporting Good Governance in Multicultural Communities

The NSW Settlement Partnership (NSP) is a consortium of 20 community-based organisations delivering services in agreed areas of NSW under the Department of Home Affairs' Settlement Engagement and Transition Support (SETS) program. Led by Settlement Services International (SSI), the NSP includes Migrant Resource Centres, multicultural services, neighbourhood centres and ethno-specific organisations. The NSP organisations have a long and proud history of service delivery to newcomers and working collaboratively to support multicultural communities, including new and emerging communities with limited capacity to self-organise.

The NSP supports new and emerging communities to build on their existing capacities to self-organise and strengthen governance in multicultural community groups and associations. As part of this work, the NSP developed five key standards for good governance:

- Clarity of Purpose and Mission
- Accountability and Transparency
- Partnership and Equitable Sharing of Resources
- Diversity and Representation
- Compliance with the Law
