NSW Government Releases Community Services Funding Framework and Jobs Compact

Please forward this email to others in your organisation who need to know about this information.

Dear service provider

The NSW Government is proud to share that the Secure Jobs and Funding Certainty (SJFC) Community Services Funding Framework and Jobs Compact have been officially released by Minister Washington, accompanied by a joint media release with NCOSS and the ASU.

Developed in collaboration with the sector, the Funding Framework and Jobs Compact aim to reduce duplication, streamline processes, and make it easier for providers to engage with government.

The Funding Framework sets out how community services will be funded and managed, promoting fairness, transparency, and long-term planning. It supports five-year contracts, enabling providers to plan ahead, invest in workforce development, and deliver consistent services.

The Jobs Compact is a shared commitment between government, employers, and workers to uphold minimum labour standards and promote job security.

Minister Kate Washington said “Every day, community sector workers show up for children, families, and vulnerable people across NSW. They deserve security of employment so they can keep doing their vital work with confidence.”
